VARANASI- SPECIAL PUJA CEREMONY

You will participate in an Aarti, the evening ritual of devotion that takes place at every temple in India. You will arrive at the Ghat specially illuminated by a profusion of oil lamps. Once you get off the boat you will be welcomed by a priest with whom you will take part in the evening Aarti. You will place your own floral, candlelit offerings on the river, to bring blessings & good Karma to your life. You will then go up to the Shiva temple for the Puja and receive 'Prasad' (a blessed sweet) at the end. This is an extraordinary, authentic experience of the essence of Hinduism, and has to be orchestrated with great sensitivity and care.
